BEFORE THE RAIN AND SNOW ARRIVED, photographer Dirk MacKnight captured this autumnal morning view from Bucks Ledge in Woodstock. Only a few days later up to a foot of October snow was being reported at some nearby locations.

Bethel's day-to-day history, from 1886 on, will soon be available, and searchable, online

Turn to page 5 of this newspaper, and read a recent addition to the Bethel news column: Mayville News, by Don Bennett.

While the column is, of course, intended in part for current readers of the paper, Bennett also has another readership in mind: the historians of 2105.

It's a job Bennett can empathize with. Last year he undertook a project to collect historical material about Bethel to post on a Web site.

"I'm not writing a history, I'm gathering a more complete history. It's a collection effort," said Bennett, a retired Army lieutenant colonel who worked in military intelligence.

Because of the format, his accounts read more like journals than a book. He's relying on town, school and newspaper reports, as well as newspaper advertisements to put together day-by-day and week-by-week accounts of happenings in Bethel.

He describes them as narrative data bases. There will also be a synopsis for each year, and sections on specific topics.

He plans to start posting information on the Website, expected to be titled "Why Bethel is Bethel," late this winter. It will have a link to the current Wildlife species typical of a 100-acre plus tract of Maine woodland number in the dozens. But reduce the plot to less than 20 acres, and the number drops dramatically.

That's the effect development can have on Maine's animal life, and it's a concern for the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife. So IFW has hit the road with a wildlife-oriented map show to help towns and landowners with development planning.

Sunday evening, at the Mahoosuc Land Trust's annual meeting, Colleen Ryan of IF&W presented "Beginning with Habitat," with maps of Bethel and Newry pinpointing sensitive or important wildlife areas.

The purpose, she said, is to encourage a cooperative, non-regulatory approach to land conservation, "to allow all native wildlife species to survive over the next 50 to 100 years."

There's plenty of information available on local wildlife habitats, "but it's not getting out to towns and landowners," Ryan said. "We put it in a form that local people can use to make decisions."

For example, she said, the Sunday River

Board sees no need for ban on fast-food

By MICHAEL DANIELS

A proposal to ban fast-food franchises in Bethel village received a cold reception from town selectmen last week.

The proposal came from Broad Street resident Sally Taylor, who wrote: "By my count there are now at least ten small cafes or coffee shops and at least 11 restaurants in the village. The presence of even one fast-food franchise here would certainly be a major problem for these small businesses, and thus also for the fabric of the village itself."

The selectmen, however, did not perceive the prospect of a fast-food outlet as a danger to the town.

Stan Howe said that the town (if not the village proper) already has one

$83 million will be at stake Nov. 8

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Five long-term borrowing proposals adding up to $83 million, which supporters say would bankroll investments in Maine's infrastructure, continue conservation efforts and create jobs, will be on the Nov. 8 statewide ballot.

Unlike lawmakers, who voted on the bond package in one lump sum, voters will decide on five separate questions, Nos. 2 through 6 on the ballot.

The bond total, which is less than half of the $197 million originally proposed by Gov. John Baldacci, is smaller than hoped for by some Democrats who wanted to see more money going into economic development programs. Republicans, cautious about adding to state debt, pressed to hold the line before a summer special session in which the bonds were sent to voters.

Baldacci wants voters to approve the whole package, saying it would draw an additional $240 million in matching funds while creating more than 1,000 new jobs.

But in a larger sense, it helps the state transform to a "new economy" created by global competition and improved technology, Baldacci said.

To illustrate his point, he pointed to Hodgdon Yachts in East Boothbay, a traditional Maine industry that worked in partnership with the University of Maine to develop a new advance composite vessel prototype for the Navy.

Baldacci remembers boatyard owner Tim Hodgdon telling him, "In order for us to be able to stay the same, we've got to change."

The same idea applies to agriculture, natural resources and biotechnology, Baldacci said.

"It's going to generate economic development and grow dollars and jobs in our state's economy, which we need," Baldacci said.

The $83 million package goes before voters as state general-obligation bond debt stands at $487 million, according to June 30 figures. But treasury figures also show that the state is expected to pay off $180 million in bond debt this fiscal year.

Baldacci, noting that no new

Telstar golfers once again take state Class C title

By ALISON ALOISIO

The Telstar High School golf team captured its second straight Class C State Championship last week at Natanis Golf Course in Vassalboro.

The Rebels were led by Brady Chapman, who repeated as individual state champion. Chapman shot a four under par 68, which led all scorers in classes A, B and C.

Teammate Sean Caddigan, with a 75, finished fifth, and Kyle Maines tied for 11th.

The team score of 311 is believed to be one of the lowest totals ever for a Class C team, according to coach Jim Lunney.

Two weeks ago, Telstar also repeated as Mountain Valley Conference champions. They finished with a regular season record of 7-2.

Other playoffs

The Telstar field hockey team will play Livermore Falls today (Thursday) at home for the Western Class C Championship, beginning at 3 p.m.

The Rebels defeated Old Orchard Beach and Sacopee Valley to earn a spot in the regional championship game.

The top-ranked Rebels, 15-1, were last year's Class C state champions.

The Telstar soccer team concluded its season Saturday with a loss to North Yarmouth Academy in a Western Class C quarterfinal playoff game.

'YES' ON QUESTION FIVE

To the Editor:

At the ballot box on Nov. 8, we urge everyone to support the Land for Maine's Future (LMF) program by voting Yes on Question Five. This is of critical significance to our local region because of the current area-wide effort to preserve access to Rumford's Whitecap Mountain. The summit portion of Whitecap is up for sale, and the plan to preserve it for traditional recreational uses depends on LMF funding. Such funding has already made possible the Frenchman's Hole purchase and Moran's Landing at Bear River Rips, assuring continuing public access to valued recreational spots in the area.

With the recent completion of the Androscoggin River recreational bridge, our region continues to gain momentum as a premier recreational area, attractive to residents and visitors alike, and an important economic driving force for the communities. Let us keep the momentum going. Vote Yes on Question Five.

OUTING CLUB SKI SALE

To the Editor:

Skiers and riders are invited to celebrate the coming of ski season by attending the Bethel Outing Club's 25th annual Ski Sale, Friday, Oct. 28 and Saturday, Oct. 29 at the Gould Academy Field House in Bethel. Fifteen vendors and thousands of alpine, telemark, cross-country and snowboard items will be on sale. Sale hours are: Friday, Oct. 28 from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. and Saturday, Oct. 29 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Ski Depot will once again be available to mount bindings at the sale.

Individuals with serviceable equipment to sell may obtain up to four free tags (with a 25 cent fee per additional tag) prior to Oct. 28 at the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce to fill out in advance for "express check-in" at the sale. All items must be priced on tags provided by the Outing Club, and are subject to the usual 15 percent consignment fee per item sold. Tags can be purchased at the sale for 50 cents each after 12 noon on Friday, Oct. 28. Persons or groups with more than five items are encouraged to complete their tickets prior to the sale. Details are available at www.bethelouting.org.

Last year, 60 volunteers helped at the sale. If you have an hour or two to spare, contact Beth Clarke at 824-4692 (clarkeb@cps.sad44.org) to request a volunteer slot at or in preparation for the sale. Since 1980, proceeds of the sale have benefited area youth ski programs. The purpose of the Bethel Outing Club is to promote Nordic skiing and family oriented outings with particular emphasis on youth ski programs.

BE A BIG AT TMS

To the Editor:

It only takes an hour a week to make a difference. Big Brothers Big Sisters of America is the leader in "One on One" youth service. Since 1998 the Child Health Center has joined them in the effort to ensure that children in Oxford County have the opportunity to benefit from mentoring experiences. The Child Health Center is now the leading mentoring agency in the state of Maine. These two organizations work hard to support mentoring, but this opportunity would not be available without people who live and work in the community and volunteer their time to act as a positive role model for a child. The Center is currently looking for adult community members to join these volunteers and become a mentor in the Bethel area schools' Big Brothers Big Sisters program.

What does it mean to be a mentor?

— Volunteer one hour a week at Telstar Middle School during the school year.

— You will help your student with school work, play games and spend time talking and forming a friendship.

Research has shown that children who participate in mentoring programs are more likely to demonstrate positive behaviors in school and at home and become more positive and active community members.

It only takes an hour a week to make a difference. To learn more about becoming a school mentor, contact Jessica Truman at Big Brothers Big Sisters at 743-0222 or e-mail jtruman@megalink.net.

'NO' ON QUESTION ONE

To the Editor:

The author of "Cost of 1" (Sun Journal-10/25) gives an example of a small business owner, who needs to downsize, being forced to lay off the employee who is not "gay" if Question One doesn't pass.

Using this as an example, the same employer would be forced into keeping a black over a white, a woman over a man, a Jew over a Protestant, an older employee over a younger one, etc. Equal rights does not and never has meant special rights.

There are many things to consider when employers are forced to make difficult decisions. Prejudice against certain groups of people should never be one of them. A No on One will stop discrimination in Maine.

CREATIVE ECONOMY EDUCATION INITIATIVE

To the Editor:

The community conference tradition in the Bethel area has led to something new. Like the Mahoosuc Arts Council, the Friends of the Androscoggin, the Mahoosuc Land Trust and others before it, the last community conference on April 23, entitled "Our Creative Community" has inspired the Creative Economy Education Initiative.

The Creative Economy Education Initiative is a program developed by SAD44 Adult and Community Education to begin to give programmatic structure to ideas that came out of the conference related to education and community and economic development.

SAD44 Adult and Community Education Director Jean Waite says that when the conference report came out last June she culled all the items that specifically mentioned Adult and Community Education or items that linked adult education with economic growth. "This summer, Education Commissioner Gendron and Governor Baldacci both challenged Adult Education directors to support economic development including in the area of the creative economy," Waite said, "and our community had already done the work to say what was needed. This is true grassroots development."

The first step for the Creative Economy Education Initiative (CEEI) was to establish a special body of course offerings for Fall 2005 in the Adult and Community Education brochure that focused on fine art, heritage craft, alternative health and culture. The response to the fall class offerings has been very encouraging. A second round of course offerings is under development for Winter 2006.

"The idea," says Waite, "is to help give these artists and alternative health practitioners, who are each small business people in their own right, a central point for reaching the community. By doing this we help increase their chances of earning income and fulfilling our mission to help support economic development through education. We do this while creating a better connection for community members to participate in high-caliber arts and creative based education."

On Saturday, Oct. 22, CEEI sponsored a daylong workshop for business development for artists and creative based workers with Susan Joy Sager of ArtBiz, a Maine-based arts business consulting firm. Sager has literally written the book on the business side of art: "Selling Your Crafts" (2003, Allworth Press) and "Creative Careers in Crafts" (2004, Allworth Press). Ten local artists and craftspeople, some seasoned working artists and some brand new, attended. The course had two parts: "Marketing Plans and Potential Markets" and "Pricing Your Work." Students came away with a draft marketing plan and an individualized tool for pricing their work.

Arts and creative based business development courses are still rare in the state of Maine. SAD44 Adult and Community Education is the only Adult Education program providing education for the business side of the arts. Sager, a working artist herself, is uniquely well suited to talk about business from an artist's point of view. Students said the Saturday course was very helpful for the future of their arts business endeavors. One student said it helped him realize that making an income by selling his art may not be for him.

The Creative Economy Education Initiative is a partnership of SAD44 Adult and Community Education, the Mahoosuc Arts Council, the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce, the Bethel Historical Society and the Northern Forest Center. "And the list is growing," Waite says. "Area artists, heritage crafters, alternative health practitioners, musicians and technologists, among others, are all considered partners in this endeavor. The word is spreading and we look forward to having more and more of our local talent base become involved in the initiative."

If you are interested in learning more about the Creative Economy Education Initiative, there will be a one-hour public presentation by CEEI program coordinator Lucia Colombaro, on Tuesday, Nov. 1 at 5:30 p.m. in the Telstar Library, Bethel. All are welcome.

In our back yard:

Why we should care about indoor air

Looking forward to a winter free of colds? Impossible, you say? Not with proper indoor air quality.

What do winter colds have to do with indoor air quality? Everything. You are what you breathe.

The connection between air quality and sickness is mucous. Small amounts of mucous are normally found in the nose, ears, sinuses and lungs. Excess mucous creates a friendly environment for bacteria and viruses to grow to large numbers that can cause serious infections.

In addition to adequate rest, healthy diet, daily exercise, and reduced stress, limiting these friendly mucous environments will slow or stop bacteria and viruses from causing infections. While the cold, dry air of winter triggers excess mucous production, the quality of the air one breathes also affects the amount of mucous our bodies make. Contaminants in the air cause excess mucous production due to irritant or allergic effect.

Inside the home or apartment, common allergic producers of excess mucous are dust mites, cat and dog dander, moldy basements, carpets, and walls as well as smoke from cigarettes or wood stoves. Poorly vented and poorly calibrated propane heaters also contaminate indoor air. Strong odors from cleaning agents, perfumes and potpourri or cleaning products, copiers and fax machines in the workplace commonly irritate the nose, eyes, and sinuses. Fine dust from a wood shop or a dusty road will also irritate the nose.

In addition, carpets are great reservoirs of dust and once they are damp, mold. Pillows and soft furniture, such as couches, are home to many dust mites. Forced hot-air heating systems blow this dust and mold throughout the home.

The best solution to these irritant and allergic problems is to correct or remove the offending agents. Instead of springtime house cleaning, cleaning the house in the fall, before it is closed up to conserve heat for the winter, will help to cut down on indoor air pollutants.

Mold in carpets and walls need to be removed. Damp basements need continuous light or be sealed from the living space in the home by a plastic vapor barrier. Dust mites can be contained in allergy proof pillow and mattress cases. Fluffy furniture and rugs can be covered with plastic or replaced with smooth wood or plastic furniture. And washing pets twice per week dramatically reduces dander.

Also it is helpful to store wood outside and bring inside one day's worth at a time. Covering air vents or registers with a filter will decrease the dust blown by the hot air heating system. And never allow smoking inside.

At school, daycare and work, the heating, ventilation, air conditioning (HVAC) system should be examined and cleaned several times per year. Radiators and baseboards heaters should be vacuumed in the fall. Copiers and fax machines belong in a well-ventilated room or away from workers at their desks, and odors and perfumes should be removed from the work area.

The cleaner the air we breathe the fewer colds we might suffer this winter. The fewer colds, the better we feel. The better we feel, the more fun winter brings.

Briefly

Voters approve town budget

HANOVER — Town Meeting voters Tuesday approved a 2005-2006 municipal budget of $363,000, up $30,000 from last year. Most of the increase was attributed to school tuition payments for the town's children. Frank Morrison was elected unopposed to finish the remaining two years in the term of selectman Scott Gould, who resigned to move out of town. Dan Force was elected to complete two years remaining on former School Committee member Debbie Barlow's term. First Selectman Bruce Powell ran unopposed and was re-elected to a fourth term. Also re-elected unopposed were Town Clerk Clem Worcester and School Committee member Vicky Flamiani. Norm Ferguson was recognized as Hanover's Volunteer of the Year. A former state senator, he has been a long-time moderator for the annual Town Meeting. About 30 people attended Tuesday's meeting.

Items approved at special meeting

WOODSTOCK — A special Town Meeting made up mostly of town officials last week approved three money items on the brief warrant. Approved was $352 to reimburse Ellsworth and Joyce Hathaway for legal and survey costs related to their donation to the town of .644 acres that abuts the South Woodstock cemetery (funds to come from the Grounds Care Account); $9,000 from Surplus to fund unanticipated fuel costs expended from heating and equipment accounts; and $8,500 from Surplus to fund unanticipated maintenance costs to the town's 1994 Ford L8000 plow truck. The truck's engine will be rebuilt. In other business, at a regular selectmen's meeting just prior to the Town Meeting, selectmen approved paying animal control officer Dannie Paine $400 a year, beginning in 2006, to help with the cost of heating his animal shelter in West Paris. Through the end of this year he will be paid $50 a month.

Haunted Halloween Walk

ANDOVER — Andover will host its first ever Haunted Halloween Walk Oct. 29, on a dark wooded path located behind Andover Automotive on Main Street. "Nobody will go home disappointed whether you are five or 65," said Abby Mills, who is coordinating the event along with Esther Pew. "We asked Halloween enthusiasts in our town to participate who, we knew, would deliver and make it a fantastic night out. There will be plenty of screaming for everyone," said Mills. "Those involved are very excited and have lots of energy. They can't wait for it to start." Walkers will park in front of Andover Automotive/Andover Supply and purchase tickets under the lighted tent to enter. A short hayride will deliver walkers to the woods and everyone will be offered a ride back as well. Tours begin at 6 p.m. A donation of $1 per walker for those five and older will benefit a school-sponsored trip to Europe for the girls, with other Mt. Valley and Telstar students. Those four and under are free with a paying adult. Look for coupons in local businesses that offer "bring three and get in free." For more information, call 392-4691 between 6 and 8 p.m.

Mobile home destroyed by fire

MILTON TWP. — A fire early Thursday evening, Oct. 20, destroyed a mobile home located off a side road from the East Milton Road. The home's contents and an addition were also destroyed. No one was injured in the fire, which occurred a few minutes after the owner, Gordon Peace had stepped out, according to Rumford Fire Department Lt. Keith Bickford. The trailer was uninsured. Bickford estimated damage at $30,000. Following an inspection the following day, Bickford said the cause of the fire will probably remain undetermined.

At 6:59 p.m. Officer Travis Fillmore assisted Bethel Rescue on a medical call on the Intervale Road.

At 11:25 p.m. Officer Rusty Daley received a report of a noise problem and possible fight at a Mason Street residence. The parties involved were warned that if problems continued they would be charged with disorderly conduct.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log. It lists all cases of adults being arrested or issued a criminal summons in the 10 days prior to the newspaper's publication, but does not include all reports of other police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies.

Mayville News

by Don Bennett

Next summer will be the 10th season that Jeff and Pattie Parsons have operated their Bethel Outdoor Adventure campground and canoeing-kayaking enterprise.

Talking with Jeff recently it is apparent that completion of the new recreational bridge over the Androscoggin River has given Jeff what I would call the Ten-Year Itch. The Parsons came to Mayville via many years with Outward Bound then Ta-Ka-Radi Tiles and a West Bethel hostel. Jeff said that now after living here for 30 years he feels that he and Pattie are at least entitled to apply for the category of "Local" even though it may take another 30 years to get approval.

The summer of 2005 may have attracted more attention to the campground and canoe layout than ever before due to the summer's bridge works. On the other hand, passersby may have missed the campground completely after being focused on the bridge. In any event, Bethel Outdoor Adventure has been re-configured. Once the bridge span itself was finished, part of the BOA grounds near the bridge was altered to provide a zigzag off-ramp. Some of the original Godwin farm, then later campground road, will be lawn next summer.

With summer over, the business part of the Parsons' lives will now be divided into three segments: the campground, boating and the new third part — winter with the bridge. Their business vision can be explained like this. After many years working with Outward Bound students, including some years on the Androscoggin, they saw a growing opportunity to put their experience to use. When they arrived in Mayville, the Parsons opened a new door in the area's summer tourism by changing the style of vacationing from being hosts to the lodging-only vacationer to one of turning vacationers into active explorers. Along the way they have hosted non-vacationing pipeline building campers as well as a campground full of river.

At 8 a.m. on Friday I saw displayed on the far wall of their office/front desk an old-time, two-man cross-cut saw with one handle missing. Pasted to the blade of the saw are photographs of eight couples most of whom have gray hair. My question was, "What is the symbol of the missing handle?" Jeff explained to me that this saw and the photos is a tribute to their "working campers." The working campers have a common background that is one of having retired from demanding professional careers. Without the help of these couples, the Parsons would have to hire extra employees during the busy summer months. Normally, they have two full-time employees.

So, to answer my original question, the working campers are the missing saw handle. The sad thing is, according to Jeff, when they leave in the fall we will probably never see them again.

Canoe trips, kayaking and teaching novices the skills needed to do both, the second part of the business, makes for a busy summer season. At first, most of their boating customers came from out of state. Some, for instance, stayed at the Summit Hotel and after driving by the campground came back to try out a canoe trip. In the last two summers, Jeff says, cautiously, he is seeing a trend of more Maine people coming to their launching site. He believes that behind this trend is the growing, favorable reputation of the Androscoggin as well as the desire to try out new waters. But in good conscience, they have assumed guardian responsibility of river life: no littering, unruly behavior or over use that could torpedo their wonderful natural resource.

Now we get down to winter, the third leg under the Parsons' adventure milking stool. Most of winter in previous years meant keeping the office open without much business to pay for utilities. February is not a good time for kayaking. But now they have "the bridge." In August, The Café, a modest human refueling point, was opened in anticipation of serving the winter's snowmobile traffic; late summer and fall was its "dry run" period. Plan A is this: put plenty of temporary signs pointing to BOA and The Café out on the main snowmobile trails. (And keep twenty or so "OPEN" flags fluttering.) Plan B is to make BOA look inviting to the ASP's, affluent snowmobile people, who have cruised into Bethel with nearly $100,000 worth of vehicles and equipment and are prepared to set up a winter camping site at the BOA. With these prospects in mind, the Parsons would welcome a partner who can speak "snowmobile," is mechanically gifted and could handle overnight snow machine repairs. (And has an extra 50 grand stuffed into his backpack.)

However, the third segment does not end with winter. Jeff is hoping that a summer trail network can eventually be worked out that would offer soft exploration (Outward Bound lite) adventures, sips of local natural history and culture as well as test the mettle of Bethel residences who claim that they would like a walkable path to the town's new swimming pool.

Can the Parsons do it? They sleep with a 400-pound guerrilla called the Androscoggin. Floods can check into all of the campsites unexpectedly. The art of flood prediction and early warning falls into the category shared by woolly caterpillars and assuaging the spirits of the gods. At BOA, the owners would like to see a little more reliable science of flood prediction come their way.

Another more tangible issue though is Maine's sign stinginess on use of travel information signs in the Bethel area along U.S. Route 2. For the lack of roadside signs that display the same, familiar kind of graphics and directions used throughout the rest of the USA, Jeff believes that a fair amount of camping business is lost in the summer because itinerant camping folks in RVs have not seen customary, familiar tent icon signs in our area. (There is a huge cluster of travel signs, minus camping and boating, at the junction of U.S. Route 2 and Lover's Lane and on Parkway Road. Arriving in the Bethel area from the east, Rumford direction, there is no similar sign cluster. I would hope that the tent and boating panels can be added for next summer.)

From 1978 to 1983, while president and volunteer executive director of the Bethel Chamber of Commerce, I supported, to no avail, keeping small business roadside signs. MDOT was totally unsympathetic to our meetings in Augusta with their functionaries. I support the Parsons in their feelings about Maine's stingy, out of step with the rest of our neighboring states' sign policies. Maine and Vermont are the only two states in the contiguous 48 that ban billboards.

To protect their camping domain from unwanted development intrusions, two years ago the Parsons bought Hastings Island. At this time, they do not have a clear plan for using the 50 acres of island. But Jeff said at least they can say that they have expanded their camping area from 12 to 62 acres with more plans a blowing in the wind.

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte

Our frost was a month late. We had a false sense that summer would go on forever. Sunday morning dashed our hopes with one-and-a-half inches of snow on the ground. The flakes were as big as silver dollars. Outdoor work came to a standstill, so we will have to do the cleanup next spring.

Our good friend Buster Williamson died on Monday, Oct. 17. There are no words to express our loss. He was everywhere. Of course fishing was his number-one thing, sharing the products of his garden was a daily mission. A fresh salmon, bass, blueberries, strawberries, fiddleheads and every other wild gift was never wasted. He was a man that focused entirely on what was to be done, be it logging, trapping, or fishing. He had a wonderful life. The ladies in the neighborhood will never forget card games with him. He was the only male in the group, so he heard some female gabbling not worth repeating. His own stories were legends. Our heart goes out to Ginny, Diane and his two sisters, Doris and Phyllis.

Many years ago Buster brought Ginny and I up to a thicket deep in the woods where he saw a black-backed, three-toed woodpecker feeding her very noisy little ones. This rarely seen bird inhabits deep forests and burned-over woodlands feeding on the larvae beneath the bark. It has endless energy and must get exhausted feeding her greedy offsprings. Its range is north to Alaska and Newfoundland and south to New England. It has a black back, white underparts with barred black and white sides. Males and the young have a yellow cap.

Thank you Buster for all these special moments in our life.

The foliage season was a bust. Rain, wind and other nasty conditions spoiled it. There were no "leaf peepers" taking pictures this year.

The second week of the Ladies Aid Christmas and Craft Fair was held on Saturday.

Several people came to buy the products offered. The Bake Sale is always a huge success. We thank those who supported us for our hard work to raise money for the Jenkins Fund Christmas Party for the children.

The "Little Moose" is safe and sound after the moose hunting season. She still wanders around the lake shore. The apples across the street attracted her for a while. She didn't eat the apples, she ate the tree. It won't be long before she is a big moose. She's growing fast.

The "naughty but nice" Red Hat Ladies enjoyed a tea at Jean Bean's home on Sturtevant Pond. It was a grand affair with all the ladies decked out in red and purple regalia.

The Planning Board, under the direction of Jim Kenney, chairman, held a hearing on the Site Plan Review. John Mahoney, from AVCOG assisted the group through the procedure. It was determined that an ordinance would be drawn up and put to the vote of the town to see if it would be accepted. The Site Plan is an organ to assist the landowner in overseeing his property. It is not zoning but protects the landowner and his neighbor.

Get your boots, scarves and mittens out because winter has descended on us.

The "Bird of the Week" is the black-backed, three-toed woodpecker.

Hello readers. I heard on Sunday morning that there was snow on

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department

It's that time once again for all the little ghosts and goblins to come knocking on our doors with their shouts of "Trick or Treat."

I never have a clue of how many little visitors to expect. There have been years when I've had so many kids that I've run out of candy and resorted to giving out apples. The kids were always polite and said thank you, but you just knew that under the masks and make-up there's a frown as they see one more apple go into their bag of goodies.

There have been other years when so few children came around I was left with a huge stash of candy. I used to buy candy that I didn't like so there would be no temptation to devour the leftovers. But, being the frugal person that I am, I couldn't just throw the stuff away. I'm sure somewhere in one of my many cupboards there is a canister filled with old Sweet Tarts.

I've gone back to getting the good stuff that I shouldn't be eating, but it seems less wasteful than stashing candy in my cupboards for several years.

When I think of the years that I have only had a few hobgoblins come knocking I realize that they are the years following the ones when I resorted to the apples. You can laugh, but kids remember where the good houses are and where the popcorn and apple houses are. And, they tell other kids too.

As feeble as my memory is getting, I can still to this day drive around Norway and tell you where all the good "Trick or Treat" houses were when I was a kid.

There were the high priority houses where you always got a full-size candy bar. At the medium priority houses you got the smaller candy bar and the low priority houses handed out apples or bags of popcorn mixed with candy corn. Then there were the houses you didn't go to if the previous year got you something like a sticker with a Bible quote on it.

My brother and I used to map our course prior to going out. In our own neighborhood we went to all the houses even if we knew we would get apples or popcorn balls. We were afraid we would hurt our neighbors' feeling if we didn't call on them. Little did we know that they would have been just as happy not to see us at all.

There were the high priority houses where you always got a full-size candy bar.

Outside the neighborhood we had no such allegiances. We would zigzag all around town going only to the houses we knew dispensed the good stuff. Our biggest concern was that a "good house" may have had a change of tenants during the year and the new residents may not know that their new home was marked.

There were also some haunted houses or at least what we perceived as haunted and the more we talked about the nature of the hauntedness, the more we became convinced we could see ghosts or monsters moving from room to room.

In actuality, the haunted houses were merely older homes that might have a crooked window shutter or two or faded clapboards. A large old Victorian set apart from other houses was definitely haunted no matter how good a shape it was in.

Some of these houses still exist and when I look at them I laugh to myself with the realization that they just plain don't look haunted by anyone's standards.

My brother and I also stayed away from houses painted red because we thought they were occupied by Communists. That was, after all, in the 50's and the height of the "Red Scare." We, of course, had no idea what-so-ever what a Communist was. We thought that anything that could induce all those "Duck and Cover" drills we were doing in school, must be pretty horrible.

However, one Halloween some kids told of that particular red house was treating with Sugar Daddies and Milky Way bars. We really liked Sugar Daddies and Milky Ways. We worked up the courage to go there agreeing that one of us would wait on the sidewalk so that one could run and get help just in case some monster Communist open the door.

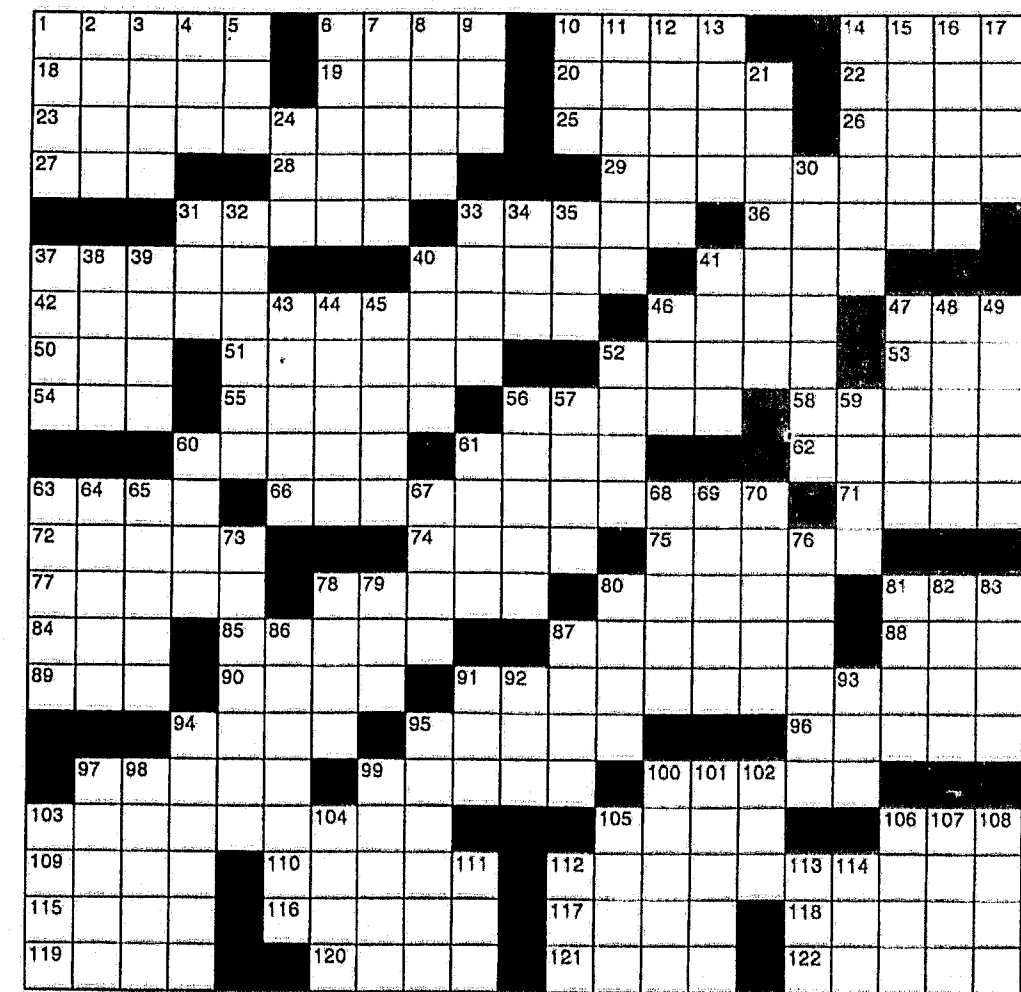

My brother talked me into being the one to knock on the door by assuring me that Communists only ate boys and never little girls. I almost crumpled to my knocking knees when my Sunday School teacher opened the door.

Naturally, we stayed away from all the known grumps and the people we thought didn't like little kids. All in all, we had a pretty good route.

I'm sure that your little ghosts and goblins have their favorite houses to "Trick or Treat" too. This year my house is definitely one of the good houses and you're welcome to come here. I promise no apples. I've got great candy and the way I see it, if the turn out is light, I do know how to eat it. So I'll just trick or treat myself. Have a safe and Happy Halloween.

Judy Ray returned to her Austin, Texas, home last week by way of the Manchester Airport. Returning to Howard Pond with Jim Ray were Butch and Georgia Ann Emery. The Emerys are also from Texas and came to visit Maine for all the sights — through all the rain of course.

Officials at Plumbago Timber and Quarries were excited last week when they received their new ground-penetrating radar machine. The machine uses radar waves to "look" into the ground for the kind of conditions the officials are looking for and a computer interprets the findings.

Donna and Clem Worcester traveled last Sunday to Gouldsboro to attend a reception for the Pythian Grand Chief. Janice and Danny Bennett from Milton Township also went to the event to honor Grand Chief Pat Young.

Small streams and brooks again rose after the heavy rains last Sunday. Leaves have dropped from many trees, enough so everything begins to look bare. All the folks who leave just before the weather gets really bad have gone. That has us that remain looking forward to whatever happens next. I'd bet it might be interesting.

Gilead

by Lin Chapman

I have pretty much decided that I could just keep reprinting my column every week. The weather is always about rain and there doesn't seem to be much else happening. How about some news from the local residents. I don't like to put in news unless the people involved say it is all right. I know about some of the things that are happening, but not sure how much of that anyone would like to see in print.

Bill and Gale Tout stopped by to take care of some business for the Gilead Historical Society. It was nice to sit and visit and catch up with them on their recent travels.

My brother, Steve McLain, and his son, Brad, took advantage of the nice day on last Saturday. They worked on wood for the winter and did a little mechanic work on one of their vehicles.

Our grandchildren, William and Annie Chapman, stopped by Sunday. There was a break in the rain and they needed to get out. William is trying to decide what he wants to dress up as for Halloween.

On Sunday, after the kids left and since it was raining, Hugh and I decided to take a ride up Route 113 and check out Wild River. The water was moving fast and the wildlife was out. We went up to the Wild River Campground, and on the way up, Hugh spotted a large owl in a tree. He got out and got within 10 feet of it and took a picture. On the way back, we were looking for where the owl was and there in front of us was a big moose. He was not interested in having his picture taken and no amount of coaxing could bring him back toward the road. I got out to try to get a picture and decided the leaves were too wet and slippery to risk taking a fall if I had to make a mad dash back to the car. The owl picture is great, but the moose is mostly his head peeking around a tree.

I had a call with news that Jack Pucak was in an accident last week. He was riding his motorcycle in Gorham, N.H., and was struck by a car. At the time that I am writing this, he is in the hospital in Portland and will be there for probably a week at least. Cards and get-well wishes could be sent to his home at 10 Mt. Tumbledown Road, Gilead, ME 04217. I certainly hope he has a speedy recovery and gets home soon.

Gilead Historical Society Last reminder that the Cemetery Tour is this Saturday. Meet at 1 p.m. at the Town Hall. We will try to go to as many of the cemeteries as time and weather will permit. If the weather is too bad, we will have a short get-together at the hall. Some of the people, who plan on attending, have stories they can pass on about interesting facts regarding the local cemeteries. There will be coffee available.

How about some news. Call 836-2987 or e-mail chapmal@hotmail.com.

Last Friday night we finally had a killing frost — the latest we've seen in the eighteen years we've lived on the Flat Road. And so we have begun all the end-of-season garden chores, pulling up, tearing out, mowing down, etc. After a few sunny days that acted like a regular autumn, the rains returned on Sunday, with more due on Tuesday and thereafter. For the sake of snow lovers, I hope we get some good snow this winter as well.

Many of the trees have dropped their leaves, but the oaks, beeches, and sugar maples are tenaciously hanging on. I noticed the big tamarack in Bob and Carol Everett's dooryard, and it is looking gorgeous, with all its needles brilliant gold, even on a gray, rainy day. While the hillsides haven't been exactly glorious this fall, there are patches of startling color here and there.

Sharon Lyon of Sparrowhawk Mountain spent a rainy day this past weekend walking in a marathon. I received a picture via e-mail of Sharon with HURRICANE RELIEF—Stoneham Rescue representative Gail Meka (right center) presents a check for $2,007 for hurricane relief to Lions Club past district governors Clyde Nason and Bob Swett (in vests). With help from the Waterford/Stoneham Lions, Stoneham Rescue raised the amount at a recent public supper. The money will be distributed through the Lions Club International Foundation. To date, this is the largest donation for this cause from any Lions Club in the state. Stoneham Rescue, staffed by volunteers, provides free ambulance service to Albany, Lovell, Waterford and Stoneham. seven other women, all with big smiles on their faces at the end of the day, in spite of what had obviously been a cold, wet trek. Having done this type of thing myself, I understand the "high" they were experiencing. Some of you may have seen Sharon out training, either on foot or on her recumbent bicycle. Congratulations on a job well done!

We attended the annual meeting of the Mahoosuc Land Trust on Sunday evening. Officers were elected, with Steve Wight taking over as president from Landon Fake. The program was a presentation, "Beginning with Habitat," by Colleen Ryan of Maine Inland Fisheries and Wildlife Department. It dealt with strategies for balancing growth with protection of natural resources and wildlife habitat. The small auditorium at Gould's McLaughlin Science Center was filled to capacity, and all the comments I heard afterward were very positive.

Earlier this season I wrote that the West Bethel Union Church was forming a men's group. The Rev. Earl Bell reports that on Oct. 19 ten men gathered at the church for dinner. Following dinner, Bill White, president-elect of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce and owner of the Sudbury Inn, shared with the men some of the workings and purpose of the Chamber of Commerce. This men's group will be meeting each third Wednesday of the month for a dinner meeting and program. The Rev. Mr. Bell urges, "So, men, you are invited to join the group for food and fellowship and to learn more about our community."

I noticed that there is a new house being built just to the south of Emerson and Adaline Clough. Looks as if it will be a very nice one. Meanwhile, Leigh Gadbois and Scott Howe have sold the Mud City Schoolhouse and have moved to their new home in Buxton, where they will be closer to family. A younger couple, originally from Maine but recently from Florida, will be taking over the schoolhouse.

Someone mentioned that Florence and Alma Merrill have a new addition to their family, an eight-month-old lab mix puppy. He is proving to be a challenge, as most puppies that age are, with his youthful exuberance and energy. He doesn't much like the outside pen and shows his disdain by jumping over the six-foot high fence. As I used to tell my daughters when they were teenagers, "This, too, shall pass."

There's snow on Mt. Washington and some at Sunday River, too. I guess it won't be long before we have it here in our valley as well. Be prepared!

I want everybody to know I'm applying for a building permit from LURC; I think it is time to get underway with construction of an Ark! Enough rain already. Eleven inches since Oct. 1st as of Sunday, and another big storm on the way.

Others have been writing about their birdfeeder activity. We have lots of them too, and I think Mona is going broke feeding them. I just thought I'd update you on the status of our "crazy cardinal." He is still with us and makes daily visits to all the windows on the south and east sides of the house. Sometimes he just perches on a window ledge and peers inside to see what we are up to. He is also becoming less wary of humans.

Mona is convinced that bird knows when she goes downstairs to the computer room because he almost always comes down and pecks against the windows there, even though those windows are under our deck. The only difference from summer is that he isn't singing these days.

We have also noticed a white-crowned sparrow and a tufted titmouse at our feeders lately, which we don't usually see here. Last week, there was even a cedar waxwing, and I thought they had gone south.

Until a few days ago, we had not had a killing frost here in the "banana belt." Ina was picking fresh raspberries from their garden on the farm as late as Oct. 20; they were an ever-bearing variety and not nearly as sweet as those grown in the warm summer sun, but still tasty.

They also had a harvest of trout from their pond last Saturday. Rupert Jr. had stocked the little pond by the road with, brown trout in the spring, and he wanted to see how big they had grown. Nobody had been able to get the fish to bite either worms or flies, so he wired up a "junk" of netting, that had been covering the blueberry plants, with wires to enable us to "drag the pond." With two people at each end of the net, plus one on the end of a wire attached to the bottom side of the net, we surrounded the pond and slowly dragged the net across.

The first pass netted nothing but a few sticks and leaves; the return pass was more successful. Ten beautiful trout came flopping out of the water with the net and leaves. Eight were about a foot long, and the other two a couple inches longer.

Last Sunday was so rainy I decided to take Mona on a Sunday drive to the Lewiston Sears store. I wanted to test the Craftsman tool guarantee; you know, the one that says Craftsman wrenches are guaranteed.

forever, I had a 1/2-inch socket wrench ratchet that quit working right. I walked into the tool section with the ratchet in my hand, and the girl at the register said, "I know what to do with that." She took my wrench and handed me another one that had been "re-habbed," along with a cash register receipt. The replacement one had somebody else's name etched on it, so I asked if I could pick out a different one. She was agreeable, so I got another wrench, in working order, that looks like new. Meantime, Mona spent her money on a new pair of gloves.

Last Friday, Mona's sister, Mary Stewart (Stu), paid a visit. She brought up a big stack of sheet music that she cleaned out of a nook somewhere when she sold her house. Mona was delighted, and leafed through every piece. She even found the piece she had played in her "one and only" piano recital "quite a few years ago." Stu and her husband plan to leave for Florida for the winter this week. Hope they still have a place there!

East Stoneham

Hi readers. Don't you like these nice fall days?

I do. The leaves are still pretty though a lot have fallen off and they weren't quite as pretty this year.

Last week, members of the Waterford Friendly Senior Citizens went for their annual Fall Foliage Trip to Teena's Restaurant in Rumford. We met at the North Waterford

Church at 10 a.m. and left in individual cars. There were 15 of us at the dinner table: Agnes Lahti, Eleanor Nelson, Maisie Murch, Martha Flint, Evelyn Pike, Carol Reeves, Dolly MacDonald, Mary Andrews, George Kimball, Marjorie Kimball, Jack Nihan, Marge Nihan, Martha Pinkham, Ella Button and Emily Perkins.

We agreed to have the next meeting at the North Waterford Church vestry on Wednesday, Nov. 2, at 11 a.m. for the Thanksgiving dinner, with meeting after. This is a nice group of people and we get together once a month. This is for people over 50 years of age, so come join us. It's only $1 a year to belong. You can't beat that!

Friday, we went to Norway for doctors' appointments and lab work and afterward ate at Market Square Restaurant and sat near our friends, Elizabeth and Ronelle Cummings. We like their Friday fish fry and the company of friends.

The Harvest Supper, put on by the Stoneham and Waterford church members last Saturday went over well at the North Waterford Church vestry.

Shirley Grant from Mechanic Falls visited Frances Grant over the past weekend.

Sunday, I went to Portland with Everett Andrews to visit Loretta Andrews, who is still in the Maine Medical Center Hospital. We had a good visit, and she said to say hi to everybody for her. She is doing well. Thanks, Everett, for taking me. I enjoyed the ride and visit.

Genie Nelson had us to his house to a pizza party on Oct.

17 for Troy's birthday. There were seven of us there. Happy Birthday, Troy, and many more of them.

Tuesday, Frances Grant, Thelma Dadmun and I went to Norway and Thelma treated us to lunch at Lo Macs for our birthdays. Thanks, Thelma. You are a good friend and neighbor. We had a good day.

Guess that's it for now. After I get this printed and out, I must really and truly go and exercise. Are you people all ready for Halloween? Albert got some candy and I told him to hide it till then. He did, but I think I know where it is. I'll try not to find it.

Newry

by Sylvia Harrington

On Thursday, Jean and Bon Gardner drove over from Wayne to return Betty, the dog that is visiting from Japan. The dog belongs to Jan Baker's sister, who lives and teaches in Japan. The Gardners stayed overnight with the Bakers and drove home on Friday leaving Betty with Jan and Lorenzo. We had a pleasant, but short, visit together before they left for Bethel.

On Saturday, I headed to Rumford to pick up my brother's wife, Johan, and then she and I headed to Portland for an overnight with their daughter and my niece, Rebecca. The purpose was for our second annual Shop-a-Rama. Shortly after our arrival we had coffee and cinnamon rolls and then

TRUCK UPDATE
Newry's new ladder truck is currently under construction at the American General plant in Minnesota. The rear operator seat for the ladder is different from all other truck manufacturers. The truck should be delivered by the first week of December at the latest. Over the past year, Newry has been using a ladder truck donated by Metz's Aerials at no cost to the town. Metz's will provide the department with hands-on training when the truck arrives.

drove over to the Old Country Buffet at the Mall. Our cousin, Claire Marx from Windham, and we began shopping. We were all tired from being on our feet so long, but we enjoyed the lovely colors of items of clothing, and decorations wherever we went. We headed back to Rebecca's around dusk, and she and Johan prepared pizza for our supper. We stayed in and visited that evening. On Sunday, Johan and I returned via Auburn where we continued to shop and lunch. In Rumford, my brother, Saul, met us at the door and helped bring in the results of our trip. I headed for Newry and made it home just before dark set in.

It is Oct. 24 that Gilbert Seeley has a special birthday. On Sunday, Oct. 23, she was surprised as Karlene Bachel-der picked her up to take her and Wilma, Karlene's sister from Unity, out for lunch to celebrate the occasion. They stopped at the Newry Grange Hall, as a few cars were there and Karlene said, "Let's stop in and see what's going on." Gil said, "Something fishy is going on." She figured that out to lunch is now to the Grange for a surprise party. Among the many people in attendance were Carol and George Crockett from Sunday River, Sarah and Jordan Berry from Greenwood, Keith, Leah and Luke, Polly Mahoney, Nancy Wight, Owen Wight, Retta and Ed Powers, Robin and Greg Fraser, Betsy Clark, Bea Lowell, Merlee Page and Lee Swan, Don and Sylvia Gray, and Cindy Moxey.

Norm and Eleanor Davis have lots of pumpkins for sale.

Do your carving early, as they will not last long and Norm plans to remove them before the festivities begin on Halloween night, Oct. 31.

Don't forget to turn back the clocks this weekend — and due to the earlier darkness, take special care in driving during the trick or treat hours of Halloween Eve.

Dani Littlehale was guest of honor on her birthday, Oct. 16, at the home of her grandparents, John and Nancy Wight. The party was given by her mother, Terri Littlehale. Others attending were Jason, Sarah, Jordan and Payton Berry; Brad and Kevin Wight, Ed and

On Sunday, Oct. 16, a reception was held at the Merry Manor in Portland for National President Lesley Dean of the Daughters of Union Veterans. Those attending from Judith Grover Tent 17 were Sally Sawyer, Elizabeth and Marybeth Hoover.

November will mark the beginning of the Historical Society's 27th year. The society Museum is a historical and cultural center for the area. It is also a representative New England Museum. It is a great place and society members work very hard to maintain it. They have a fine collection of tools and farm implements, so work years ago is represented in a very concrete way. They have several sets of dishes and many household items in the collection so daily living is also well illustrated. Dresses and uniforms reflect clothing style as well. So they have a bit of everything. They also have great old photos of Woodstock for you to enjoy. Come to a meeting soon. Anyone can join, so why don't you?

Curator Larry Billings has given some inexpensive DVD movie tracks to the society. They have many videos, tapes and other things like that, but these are the first DVDs. A settee Larry refinished is very similar to one on sale for $75 and its reasonable at that price, so the museum is lucky to have it on display. Remember the society still has two of Ruby Emery's books for sale. They would make a good Christmas gift.

West Paris

by Joyce Lamb

The fall weather has been fine, but there is a lack of red leaves. With the heavy rains many leaves have blanketed the ground already.

On the first day of Maine hunting, Saturday, Oct. 29, the Historical Society will hold their annual Hunters and Family Breakfast at their hall. The time is 5 to 8:30 a.m. The cost is $5 for adults and $3 for those under 12. Only at the breakfast, raffle tickets will be sold for a muzzleloader. The drawing will be at the end of the breakfast. Come and be the lucky winner.

At the West Paris Universalist Church on Oct. 30 Joseph Perham will speak on "We Pass This Way But Once." Music is by James Burke followed by a coffee hour.

The church sale was a great success. All the hand-dipped chocolates were eagerly bought up. The crafts and knitting and crocheting went well. Dollies crocheted by Georgia Thayer, 92 years old, were a big hit.

On Nov. 4, a potluck supper will be held at the West Paris Universalist Church to welcome the Rev. Joy Gasta's daughters, Rachel and Catherine, while they are here in the area. A memorial service for Rev. Gasta will be held on Nov. 5 at the Norway Universalist Church.

Dorene Merrill of Waterford visited Beryl Bonney on Thursday.

The Rev. Herbert Weeks, 89, of Auburn, a former minister here in West Paris, died last week. I attended his memorial service at the Auburn UU Church on Friday.

Buffy is still enjoying the rainy days and walks around the neighborhood and also sits out in it. When he comes in he waits at the door to be towed off.

From the Bethel Senior Citizens

The Bethel Senior Citizens Club met Oct 12 at the West Bethel Grange Hall for their meeting and luncheon with 33 members present. President Nancy Mercer conducted the meeting and led the salute to the flag. Reports were given by Jane Hosterman and Arlene Lowell.

The door prize was won by Dorothy Bartlett and the 50/50 raffle by Verna Thayer.

The next meeting will be Nov 9 at Locke Mills Legion Hall. The meeting will start at 11 a.m.

The speaker was Amy MacMillan, Senior Plus Medicare Part D Specialist. There will be a clinic on Nov 15 at The Four Seasons Conference Center in South Paris where more information on Plan D will be available.

The $25 gift certificate from the Bethel Foodliner was won by Arlene Lowell.

Caroline Gould spoke on the Campbell's Labels for Education Program for free merchandise for the school.

October birthdays are: Sylvia Dunham, Madelene Hunt, Florence Merrill and Martha Sweatt.

From the Bethel Lions Club

The Bethel Lions would like to thank Carl Glidden, owner of the Bethel Foodliner, and all of his staff for their support during our White Cane Day.

We would like to thank the town of Bethel for allowing us to use the Bethel Transfer Station for our Membership Drive. Also, the employees at the Transfer Station, thank-you for everything.

Our meetings are at Crossroads Diner and Deli. Meeting times are the second and fourth Tuesday of the month; the time is 6 p.m.

If anyone is in need of eye care, please call Ed Friel at 824-2107.

From the Roxbury ATV Riders

Our Friday evening, Oct. 11, meeting was held at the home of President Mike Worthley at 1162 Roxbury Notch Road, in Roxbury.

Just an update from last month:

Correction: When a paid member's dues are sent in to ATV Maine, the member has an automatic $2,000 life insurance coverage from ATV Maine. Last month indicated $200, which was incorrect.

All our trails have been GPS'd and are now being edited. We should have maps available soon and each member will receive one. A big thank you to John Houy for doing a great job on this project.

Improvements to our Park & Ride on the Roxbury Notch Road over the last couple of weeks has been done by Paul White.

Thank you, Paul.

Members are currently working on getting donated bridge frames and also working on completing the railings for the new bridge.

Our club has donated planking to the Slippery-Sliders and Sno-Goers' snowmobile clubs for bridge replacements on the multiuse trails.

Nominations of officers for the upcoming year are: Mike Worthley, president; Klaus True, vice-president; Wanda Worthley, secretary; Jane Ryerson, treasurer.

Earlier in the season we donated $150 to the Rumford Point Community Athletic Association. Their Babe Ruth team finished second overall in the Tri-County Babe Ruth League. Four of the players and the coaching staff led the All-Stars to District 3 Tournament Championships. They finished runner-up in the state. The Little League team finished third overall and the Farm League saw many new faces playing ball for the first time.

Remember if you are riding and see trash, please pick it up and take it out with you. This helps with landowner relationships.

Per landowner requests the following trails will be closed as of Oct. 28: Accesses to Farmers Hill, Horseshoe Valley, Route 120 in Andover. The trail to the left of the Park & Ride is closed, gated and locked. The snowmobile club is doing trail maintenance here and they are also putting in a new bridge. The trail is also too muddy to ride for the rest of the year. Therefore it is closed.

All members should be re-

WWII VET ATTENDS REUNION—An East Andover veteran of World War II, Robert B. Swain, attended his 14th 435th Troop Carrier Group Reunion in Washington, D.C. On Oct. 2, he and three other pilots in his squadron, attending, were presented a French Diploma for the "Jubilee of Liberty" by Consul General of France, Jean Pierre Allex-Lyoudis and a Normandy Commemorative Medal by Mike Ingresano, president of the 9th Air Force Association. The other three pilots came from Texas, Virginia and Massachusetts. Reunions have been held, beginning in 1991 in Louisiana (two times), Colorado, Kentucky (two times), New Mexico, Tennessee, Florida, Massachusetts, Arizona, Virginia, Texas, California, and Washington, D.C. Swain is the only veteran to attend all reunions. The final reunion will be held in 2006 in San Antonio, Texas for those "over 80 year old" veterans. The French Republic was recognizing American pilots who towed gliders into Normandy as part of its liberation 60 years ago.

ceiving a quarterly newspaper from ATV Maine. If you are not, please contact Wanda Worthley. This paper gives you a lot of great information on what is happening in the Legislature and around the state with various clubs for ATV Maine.

It is that time of the year again to join a snowmobile club. Members need to work together to support each other to make our trail systems work.

Please help us keep our trails. Remember to respect the landowner who has given us permission to use their trails. Watch your speed and carry out what you carry in.

Attention: Anyone attending monthly meetings: the time has been changed to 7 p.m. in the evening.

ATV info: Off-road motorcycles are considered an ATV and they must be registered as one to ride off your own land according to Maine Law.

The next meeting will be held on Friday, Nov. 4, at 7 p.m. at Mike Worthley's home. See address above.

Till next month: happy and safe riding. There is not a lot of riding left before we move from ATVs to snowmobiles.

From the Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

On Nov. 10, the Bethel Historical Society will officially celebrate Newry's 200th anniversary of incorporation, which took place on June 15, 1805. Earlier this year, during the Town of Newry's celebration, the society opened an exhibit in its Robinson House providing some insights into this town's history. At the event to be held on Nov. 10, beginning at 7:30 p.m., there will be a slide show with views of Newry people, buildings, and vistas. Following this portion of the program, there will be a panel of people with Newry ties who will discuss their memories. Anyone with Newry ties is cordially invited to attend and bring photos and other memorabilia. Also, anyone wishing to serve on the panel, should let the society know by calling 824-2908 or (800) 824-2910.

The Smithsonian Institution traveling exhibition, "Barn Again! Celebrating an American Icon" closed in Bethel on Oct. 22. In honor of this final day, Don Cyr, director of the Musée culturel du Mont-Carmel in Lille, du projet scholar for the Maine Humanities Council's portion of the Maine barn exhibit to accompany the Smithsonian Institution's traveling "Barn Again!" exhibition and a Ph. D. graduate student at the University of Maine (Orono), was the featured speaker at Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center's O'Neil Robinson House. Cyr also teaches at the University of Maine at Presque Isle and at the MSSM at Limestone. Speaking on Aroostook County barns, he presented a slide lecture illustrating numerous details of several examples found in "the County" and compared and contrasted them with those in the rest of the state.

Barns in this part of Maine possess more European influences than those to the south according to Cyr, who has been documenting the architecture of Aroostook County for the Maine Historic Preservation Commission. His appearance in Bethel was sponsored in part by a grant from the Maine Humanities Council. Cider and donuts followed the lecture.

A number of special events have accompanied this Smithsonian exhibition, sponsored in part by a grant from the Maine Humanities Council. They include the opening on Aug. 19 with special "star," "Piglet" present, courtesy of Pooh Corner Farm, a presentation on the architecture of Maine barns at the society's annual meeting on Sept. 8 with another appearance by "Piglet," the barn tour and dance on Sept. 17, the harvest supper and Maine humorist on Oct. 8, and a photo presentation by noted historian William Bunting on Maine barns at Pleasant Valley Grange on Oct. 13.

"We have been very pleased by the public response to this exhibit and to all our special events connected with it," observed Stan Howe, executive director of the Bethel Historical Society.

"It has been outstanding, and we appreciate all those who have made this possible for us," he added.

The Maine Humanities

Council presented "Barn Again! Celebrating an American Icon," an exhibition organized by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service (SITES) and the National Building Museum with the assistance from the National Trust for Historic Preservation. Barn Again! is a registered trademark owned by the Meredith Corporation and the National Trust for Historic Preservation.

This project was made possible through the generous support of the John S. and James L. Knight Foundation and the Hearst Foundation. Additional funding has been provided by the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Smithsonian Institution Special Exhibition Fund, and the Smithsonian Educational Outreach Fund.

Over 1,300 members strong, the Bethel Historical Society, founded in 1966, is western Maine's largest and most comprehensive full-time historical agency, dedicated to collecting, preserving, and interpreting the regional past for present and future generations.

For nearly forty years, the society's activities have included lectures, exhibits, special events, heritage festivals, workshops, conferences, school and educational programs, and publications. Since 1974, the society has operated from its Broad Street headquarters, the Dr. Moses Mason House, a period house museum and research library. In 1999, it opened the O'Neil Robinson House (next door at 10 Broad Street) to the public for an expanded exhibit program, museum shop space, and administrative offices. Through the years, the society's achievements have been recognized by a number of state and national organizations.

Further information about the society and its activities may be obtained by calling the above phone numbers or e-mailing: info@bethelhistorical.org.

Additional information can also be obtained by checking the Website: www.bethelhistorical.org. The mailing address is P.O. Box 12, Bethel, ME 04217-0012.

GOOD JOB, DYLAN—Dylan Alden, 9, of Bethel received an award recently in recognition of his action in calling 911 when his younger sister, Sabrina, hurt herself in a fall at home. On Aug. 16, Dylan called the emergency number when Sabrina fell and struck her throat on the back of a chair. She was having trouble breathing. "He stayed on the phone and gave us good information," said Jeff Clark, an Oxford County dispatcher. Sabrina was taken to the hospital by Bethel Rescue to be examined. Dylan was presented with a plaque at an assembly at Crescent Park Elementary School. Pictured with him are (from left) Bethel Police Chief Alan Carr, Arlene Greenleaf of Bethel Rescue, and dispatchers Tami Corson and Clark.

Telstar 3, Sacopee Valley 0; Oct. 22— Telstar's Danna Wilson, Mallory Brown and Liz Rosenberg scored goals in a Western Class C semifinal win over Sacopee. Rosenberg and Kayla Mills had assists. Stephanie Tripp had four saves in goal.

Telstar 10, Old Orchard Beach 0; Oct. 19— Telstar's Mallory Brown had a hat trick and Kayla Mills scored two goals as the Rebels defeated OOB in a Western Class C quarterfinal at Telstar. Bailey Davis, Jillian Kimball, Chea Davis, Josie Reiss and Kayla Morin scored a goal each. Mills had two assists, and Chea Davis, Danna Wilson and Liz Rosenberg one each. Stephanie Tripp had three saves in goal. Telstar outshot OOB, 37-3.

High School Boys' Varsity Soccer

North Yarmouth Academy 6, Telstar 1; Oct. 22— Telstar closed out its season with a Western Class C quarterfinal loss to NYA.

High School Girls' Varsity Soccer

Gould 2, Kents Hill 6; Oct. 21— Kents Hill scored first but Gould came back four minutes later from a pass by Nelle Reid to Hillary Hough, who put the ball away. The first half ended with a 1-1 score. Kents Hill started the second half by scoring two quick goals. Shannon Littlefield then added one to bring the score to 2-3. Gould held off the Kents Hill Huskies for the next 10 minutes, but fell short. They scored 3 goals in the last 9 minutes of the game. The final score was Kents Hill 6 Gould 2, making the team record now 3-3.

Gould 3, CVA 0; Oct. 22— Goals scored by: Marina Schachowskoj, Brittany Rogers and Heather Kelleher. Shutout in goal by Molly Spadone and Cammie Wolff. Gould has won its last four games in a row. Notable play by Heather Kelleher and Brittany Rogers.

High School J.V. Boys' Soccer

Kents Hill 3 Gould 1; Oct. 24— The Gould JV Boys lost a heartbreaker at Kents Hill Monday 1-3. The team arrived at Kents Hill and was greeted by the seemingly continual poor weather. The field was a disaster, and the men were covered in mud before the game started. Kents Hill had 28 players to Gould's 16. Undaunted, the team put up a fight and had countless opportunities. Gould ended the half down by one. Early in the 2nd half the Gould Huskies scored. Worried that the goal might be called back, the men held their breath. It counted, and the game was tied 1-1. The goal gave Gould extra legs, and they dominated the game. First to the ball more often than not, Kents Hill was kept on their heels. Unfortunately, in the last two minutes the opposition got a breakaway and finished the opportunity with a goal. To add insult to injury, Kents Hill converted on a corner kick with three seconds remaining in the game. Andrew Young, Elliot Smith and Robbie Moulton played strong and smart in the back field. Jiho Ha's speed kept the pressure up front. Nico Portuondo played some great balls to the feet of the rest of the offense and the midfielders. According to head coach Dave Lynch, it was "our best played game, and truly a heartbreaker." The team will be out for revenge when they meet Kents Hill for a rematch on Monday.

Hebron 4; Gould 2, Oct. 22— It was a hard-fought battle at Hebron on Saturday for the JV Boys. The game opened with Hebron connecting on a penalty kick. Ben Koopman made a great attempt, but it was a well-placed ball. With Gould down 1-0, the boys played hard and had lots of opportunities. Max had a little tap around the keeper, and Brady Smith chipped over the keeper. Koopman had a great game in the net.

High School Boys' Cross-country

Western Class C Regionals at Cumberland, Oct. 22— Individual Telstar finishers (winning time 17:06.00): 51. Lance Brown (20:47); 91. John Lewis (22:57.01); 92. Mat Lauro (23:20); 101. Will Chapman (24:42).

High School Girls' Cross-country

Western Class C Regionals at Cumberland, Oct. 22— 1. Freeport 42, 2. Monmouth 86, 3. North Yarmouth 107, 4. Waynflete 115, 5. Hall-Dale 126, 6. Telstar 138, 7. Madison 152, 8. Lisbon 204, 9. Winthrop 223, 10. Wiscasset 260, 11. St. Dominic 291. Winning time: 21:14. Telstar finishers: 14. Brianna Bailey (22:41); 15. Jen DeNormandie (22:46); 25. Bethany O'Neil (23:40); 42. Katlyn Keane (25:46); 47. Kim Lauro (26:56).

High School Golf

Class C State Championships at Natanis, Oct. 19— Telstar 311, Houlton 314, North Yarmouth 337, Orono 343, Carrabec 354, Cen. Aroostook 385, Buckfield 388, Ashland 408, Bangor Chr. 416, Calais 416, Washington 447, Gould no score. Telstar's Brady Chapman was the individual state champion with a four-under-par 68 as the Rebels repeated their state championship performance of 2004. Sean Caddigan (75) was fifth overall. Also scoring were Kyle Maines (83), Errol Andrews (85) and Braydon Crockett-Rice (92). Chapman's regular season average score of 37.4 was a new school record. The Rebels finished the regular season with a 7-2 record.

Oct 21— Gould Golf won their match against Hebron.

TMS Varsity Soccer

Telstar 5, Oxford 2; Oct 18— Telstar's Michael MacKnight scored the first 3 goals (the hat trick), with 2 assists, one by Troy Murphy and one by Arete Maselli. Sawyer Barter was in goal the first half and with the help of a great defense only one goal was scored the first half. Arete scored the fourth goal with an assist by MacKnight, and MacKnight scored the fifth goal. Tyler Aldrich was in goal for the second half, with a goal scored on an indirect kick. A good game was played by all. The season ended at 7-3-2.

Carrabec 3; Telstar 0, Oct. 13— Carrabec scored three goals in the first half. Telstar played a better second half and kept the aggressive Carrabec team from scoring any more goals. Telstar won the first game Sept 27 1-0.

REAL ESTATE AND YOU

AN INSTALLMENT SALE BENEFITS BOTH BUYER AND SELLER
Are you interested in a quick, easy sale of your property for top dollar? More and more people are considering installment sales when they buy or sell a home. Over fifty percent of US homes are owned free and clear, and many other homeowners have only a small mortgage that could be paid off from the down payment. These properties are excellent prospects for installment sales or seller financing.
The primary benefits for the seller include a quick, easy sale for top dollar, deferral of profit taxes, and future interest income. Sellers can carry back a first or second mortgage (often called a trust deed). Other security methods include a land contract, contract for deed, and agreement for sale. There is no delay or uncertainty while the buyer shops for a mortgage. There is excellent interest income secured by the property sold. Moreover, this is a safe investment - if the buyer does not keep up the monthly payments, the seller can foreclose.
The major benefits for the buyer include easy financing with a simple loan application, no loan fees, fast closing of the sale, and the buyer's interest payments are tax deductible.

For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling real estate, contact Cindy Hiebert at Mahosuc Realty, 207-824-2771

Obituaries

HOWARD W. COLE
Howard Wheeler Cole, 91, a well-known Oxford County businessman and member of the original development group that launched Sunday River Skiway, died Saturday night, Oct. 22, 2005, at Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway.

Mr. Cole grew up in Maine and Massachusetts before returning to his native state to pursue a lengthy career in the insurance business. He partnered with his uncles, Robert and Stanley Wheeler in the W.J. Wheeler Insurance Co. of South Paris. He served for many years as president of the company, a family firm doing business in the Oxford County area for more than a century. He retired in 1981.

Mr. Cole was born in South Paris May 9, 1914, the son of Roy and Susie (Wheeler) Cole. He was a graduate of Needham, Mass., High School, Hebron Academy and Colgate University.

In addition to his insurance career, Mr. Cole had a lifelong dedication to community service and activities.

He served as a trustee and later chairman of South Paris Savings Bank for several years before the bank merged with Maine Savings Bank of Portland. He was later a director of that bank. He was a trustee and board chairman for Stephens Memorial Hospital, an institution which he participated in helping establish. He was president of the Bethel Chamber of Commerce and the Bethel Area Development Corporation, on whose board he served as trustee for 15 years.

He served with the group from the development corporation that put together the planning and financing for Sunday River Skiway in Newry, now one of the largest destination resorts in the eastern U.S. He was also active in the Maine Insurance Association, serving a term as president.

An avid skier and golfer, his recent activities included keeping a close eye on the development of the new Sunday River Golf Course in Newry. He and his wife, Virginia, were devoted to the Bethel Inn Country Club course, as well. He had a lifetime interest in railroading and trains from his boyhood days in South Paris.

He was a member of various Masonic bodies including the Bethel Lodge and Kora Temple Shrine in Lewiston. He was a member and served as a deacon of the West Parish Congregational Church in Bethel.

A consummate gentleman, his easy-going manner and good nature earned him friends of all ages.

He was married in Skowhegan on July 18, 1942 to the former Virginia Curtis of Skowhegan, who survives of Bethel. Other survivors include a daughter, Nancy Newsum Farmer and her husband Larry of Norway; a son, Curtis W. Cole and wife Terry of South Paris, eight grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Friday, Oct. 28, at the West Parish Congregational Church, Bethel, with the Rev. Virginia Rickeman officiating. Interment will be at the Riverside Cemetery, South Paris. Those who desire, please contribute in Mr. Cole's memory to Stephens Memorial Hospital, 181 Main Street, Norway, ME 04268, or to the West Parish Congregational Church, PO Box 23, Bethel, ME 04217. Online condolences and shared memories may be expressed at meaderfh@gwi.net.

To the Citizens of Bethel

Thanks so very much for your generous response to Verina and I. We are doing well and part of that feeling is knowing that you care.
